

Foreword [by Council Leader]

Welcome to our latest Council Plan.

The past three years have been a turbulent time for the Scottish Borders, our communities and council. From the COVID pandemic to Storm Arwen, to the cost-of-living crisis, every family, every household has felt the effects of the economic, health, environmental and social challenges we have all had to face.

As leader of Scottish Borders Council, I am immensely proud of the resilience and dedication demonstrated by colleagues across our services as they responded to these major challenges. Much of their work (some of it highlighted on page 2 and 3) is unsung, but vital. Particular milestones include:

- Helping those most in need throughout this cost-of-living crisis by providing financial assistance of over £140k in crisis grants and over £600k in community care grants from the Scottish Welfare Fund.
- Supporting 200 looked after children within the Borders.
- Achieving one of the best recycling rates in Scotland and sending less than 0.5% of our waste to landfill.

As we look forward, the future looks no less challenging. We must keep delivering our essential public services to the standard people expect, while supporting those who need it most, and protecting the environment that sustains us - all while Council finances come under even greater pressure. There are also golden opportunities we must grasp whether within the Borderlands Inclusive Growth Deal, the Edinburgh and South-East Scotland City Region, or our Levelling Up Funding Partnership with central government.

Now more than ever, the Scottish Borders needs a Council that can adapt quickly and effectively while continuing to deliver the services our communities need within the resources available. There are big issues to be addressed, whether working with Live Borders to deliver sustainable leisure, sport and cultural services or in the development of a Council estate aligned to future needs.

In setting out a strategic vision for the future, our new Council Plan seeks to help us meet the challenges ahead. Of course, one document cannot capture everything, but what follows captures the bold ambition and significant work to which the Council is committed to over the coming financial year, representing vital steps on the road to delivering our long-term vision.

I'd add that the Council cannot deliver on its own. To improve lives, we must work together. A keynote of our approach remains the recognition that, if the Scottish Borders is to meet future challenges and grasp future opportunities successfully, this requires everyone to play their part: from the Council delivering services to volunteers supporting communities throughout the Scottish Borders; from the Council reducing its greenhouse gas emissions to residents seeking to reduce their waste and to put the right things in the right bins.

As ever, this is a shared endeavour, and we look forward to carrying on the journey with you.

INTRODUCTION [by Chief Executive]

Over the last 2 years, we have been taking the Council Plan in a new direction to support creation of an agile and effective organisation, capable of meeting long-term challenge and grasping opportunities in a volatile world. Our aim is an annual Plan that:

- i. is short and simple but clear in its actions and aims.
- ii. sets a strategic framework for Council decision-making and services reflected in the Council's Financial Plans.
- iii. is informed by strong engagement with local communities.
- iv. is monitored through effective Performance Management that allows us to build on what is working and to change what is not working well enough.

Page 5 sets out in graphic form the different elements which shape the Council Plan. The Council Plan has three parts:

Page 6 'Our Vision for 2033', sets out our long-term strategic ambitions. These concern complex issues resistant to single simple solutions, which require sustained activity, typically necessitating a partnership approach, over many years. They include a Just Transition to Net Zero; Poverty; and Low Economic Productivity and Wages. Embodying both the challenges and opportunities we face as a region, we extrapolate a vision for where we want to be by 2033.

That vision gives rise to the actions we intend to deliver across the Scottish Borders in 2024-2025 and this is detailed in the 'Scottish Borders-Wide Actions' section. Subsequent Council Plans will continue to build on this process, comprising steps on the road to long-term delivery of our vision for the region.

As a vital element of that journey, the Council Plan is strongly informed by our past performance. Did we do what we said we would? And did we do it by the month end referred to in the 'Target Date'? Last year, I'm pleased to report we delivered 63 of the 73 milestones we had set in the Council Plan. 7 of the milestones which have not been delivered will feature in this year's plan.

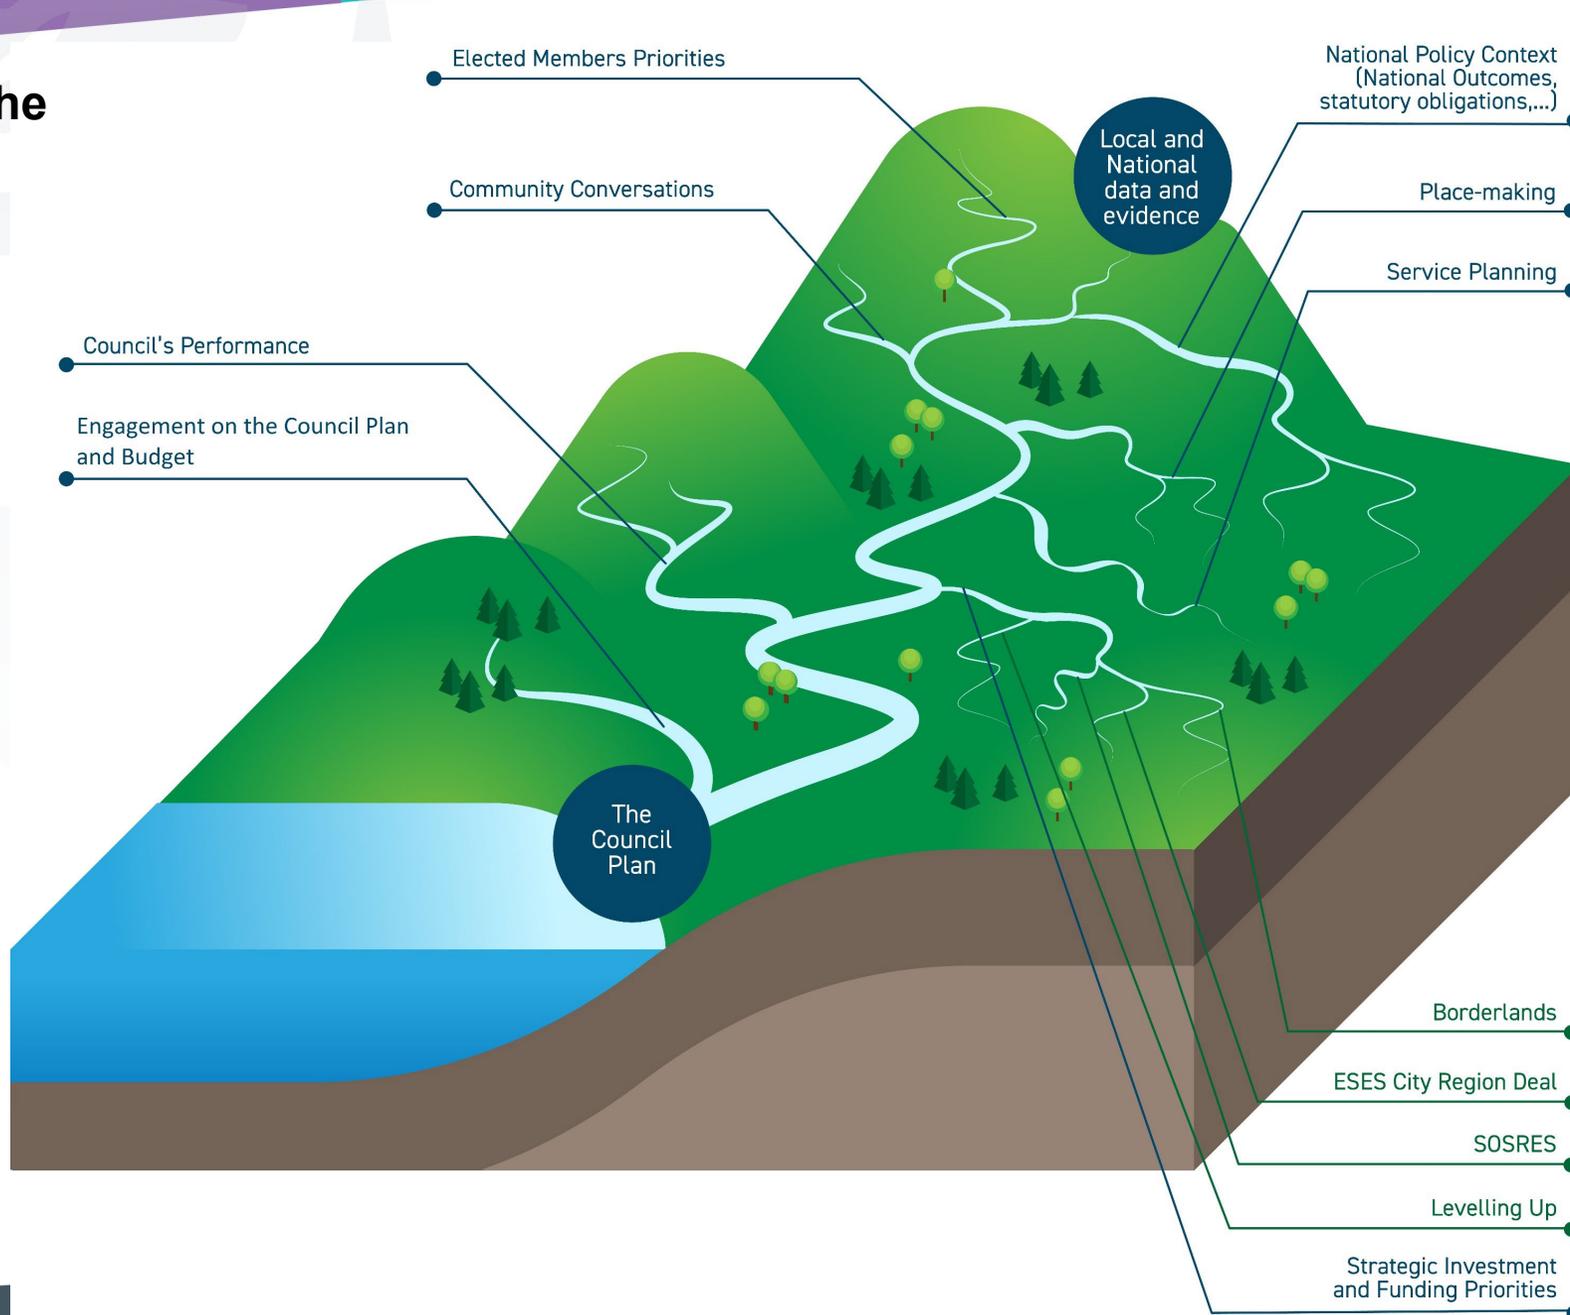

In the 'Localities Actions' section, we set out for each of the 5 'localities' of the Scottish Borders clear ambition, action and outcomes in the same way the 'Scottish Borders-Wide Actions' section seeks to do for the Scottish Borders as a whole.

Informed by this summer's Community Conversations, and ongoing engagement through Place-making, our aim is Locality Actions which speak to 'People and Places' across the Scottish Borders by setting out the priorities for different communities, whether in Berwickshire, Cheviot, Eildon, Teviot & Liddesdale, or Tweeddale.

There are three further points to highlight:

- Values matter. They help establish the culture we want to shape our decision and actions. In their focus on people, fairness, sustainability, and agility, our values resonate throughout the document, and are set out alongside our vision on page 6.
- The last couple of years, marked by an ongoing cost-of-living crisis, a pandemic and the climate and nature crisis have highlighted that we are operating in an increasingly uncertain environment. To meet future challenges and seize new opportunities, the Council must change and constantly adapt.
- As the Council confronts further real terms funding reductions, it is increasingly clear, we must also go much further transforming the Council, how we work with our partners, and, most significantly of all, how we empower and support our communities to achieve what matters to them.
